

A Compass

When Columbus set sail in 1492 and discovered new land, he had a few navigational tools to help him on his journey: a quadrant for determining the ship's position, a compass for plotting the ship's course, and an hour glass for measuring time. Color the compass below.

Get more great items for your child at:
CattailCakes.com

