

Dry Lands

A dry habitat that receives less than 10 inches of precipitation (rain) each year is called a DESERT. Deserts are dry, parched areas. An amazing array of plants and animals survive in the deserts.

Some desert landforms:

arroyo		playa
canyon		mesa
dunes		butte

Some desert plants and animals:

Saguaro cactus		roadrunners
Sidewinder snake		scorpion
camel		Joshua tree

Get more great items for your child at:
CattailCakes.com