

The Legend of the Poinsettia

The Poinsettia was named over 100 years ago by Dr. Joel Poinsett, the first United States Ambassador to Mexico. It is also called the “Flame Leaf” or “Flower of the Holy Night.”

If you had to give a gift and did not have any money to go shopping, what would you give? Draw a picture.

Get more great items for your child at:
CattailCakes.com